About Our Products

All the herbs that Herbal Pagoda ships originate from the high forests areas near the Thai-Burma border. They are handpicked from the forest floor hence they are 100% natural, organic, chemically unaltered and free of pesticides. Herbs from this area have become widely studied since a recent scientific study revealed a link between diets and significantly lower breast cancer rates among females living in this area.

Herbal remedies in this area of the world have been credited with the lowest rates of breast cancer on the planet. It should also be noted that the females from this area appear to look much younger than their chronological age (with less wrinkles on the face and a lack of sagging in the breasts). From these studies other studies were conducted on different herbs from the same population region. There have been several studies in this region by numerous universities. Many of which, were US universities and other prominent universities from around the World. Also, it was found that herbal remedies that grow in this area were significantly more potent than many other regions of Asia.

Herbal Pagoda also feels that by staying true to the traditional Ancient Asian values of processing herbal remedies, we are insuring a superior product for our customers by foregoing any modern processing procedures that are likely to add unwanted manufactured unnatural ingredient fillers to our holistic herbs herb itself. The Asians 5000+ year old tradition of processing effective herbal remedies in this same or to extract ingredients from our herbs that harm the natural medicinal properties of the time honored manner seems attributing enough to their unquestionable medicinal properties and effectiveness.

Chi Wu Cha (Radix Eleutherococci)

Chi Wu has been a part of Chinese herbal treatments for over two thousand years. It is ideal for individuals with signs of chronic stress, adrenal & endocrine imbalances, and immune disorders. The Chi Wu Cha botanical was originally misidentified; hence the name Red Siberian Ginseng was attached. Native to northern Asia, the Chi Wu Cha botanical discovered by the scientific community to belong to the Araliaceae botanical family, which is a powerful natural 'adaptogen' and anti-oxident herb that helps improve adrenal and immune function. It is not directly related to the ginseng family of botanicals whatsoever. Radix Elutherococci is in a league of its own.

Combats fatigue-Increases maximal work capacity-Increases oxygen uptake -Helps reduces physical exhaustion

Strengthens immune system -Helps increase a significant number of T - Cells -Helps patients with bone marrow loss due to radiation or chemotherapy

Anti-depressive-Contains anti-depressant properties which help depressed individuals combat mild to severe depression.

Treats insomnia- Increases sleeping times two - three fold.

Improves memory - Helps improve short-term memory in healthy humans.- increases visual perception.

Kwao Krua Dang (Butea superba)

A species related to Pueraria mirifica, Butea superba is called locally “Kwao Krua Dang” or Red Kwao Krua. Its name comes from the red sap which comes from the long tuberous root. Red Kwao Krua (Butea superba), is abundantly distributed in the Thai deciduous forest and has been popular among Thai males for the purpose of rejuvenation and increasing sexual vigor.

The tuberous roots of Thai Butea superba (Kwao Krua Dang) were found to contain flavonoid and flavonoid glycoside with cAMP phosphodiesterase inhibitor activity as well as sterol compounds, including b-sitosterol, campesterol and stigmasterol. A Thai traditional medicine with Butea superba (Kwao Krua Dang) as a major ingredient has long been accepted as an effective treatment of ED (erectile dysfunction).

Erectile Dysfunction- Improves erectile function in ED patients without apparent toxicity.

Hair-loss treatment- In conjunction with saw palmetto, Butea superba was shown to help block DHT receptors significantly in individuals suffering from hair-loss.

Prostate Health- Naturally reduces prostatic hypertrophy and carcinoma health issues by up to three fold.

Cardiovascular Health- Activates endothelial nitric oxide synthase and production of nitric oxide.

Osteoarthritis-anti-inflammatory - Potential anti-inflammatory effects.

Kwao Krua Kao (Pueraria Mirifica)

Super phytoestrogen Pueraria mirifica (Kwao Krua Kao) is a unique herbal hormone supplement. The ground root bulb herbal powder is unprecedented in terms of women's health, menopausal symptoms, longevity from its rich content in Mirosterol that activates the body's natural female hormone receptors. It's also an excellent topical skin care & beauty treatment for removing wrinkles and sagging skin, and breast.

Pueraria Mirifica contains a valuable phytoestrogen named miroestrol. Miroestrol is similar to the safest human estrogen estriol. Miroestrol is 3000 times stronger than the estrogenic activity exhibited by soy isoflavones (genistein) and 1000 times that of red clover. In addition to miroestrol, Pueraria Mirifica contains substantial amounts of other phytoestrogens including daidzein, genistein, puerarin, and mirificin.

When miroestrol enters an estrogen receptor it modulates the effect on the receptor. Pueraria Mirifica (kwao krua kao) supplements when the estrogenic activity is low and dilutes if the receptor estrogenic activity is high. Miroestrol has no effect on estrogen levels in the body as it only influences the estrogen receptor Menopause - Contains minstrel which lowers hot flashes 11 fold and night sweats 4 fold within 30 days. Most women start to notice relief symptoms within one week.

Breast Cancer - Has potent anti-estrogenic properties against aggressive cell cancer lines vitro

Anti-Aging - Naturally alleviates symptoms occurring as a result of the aging process and a deficiency in estrogen levels, e.g. sagging breasts, wrinkled skin, bone loss, and gray hair.

Osteoporosis - Bioactive constituents help maintain and/or improves skeletal health.

Skin care and wrinkle reduction - Topical uses such as Eye gel, body gel, day and night cream, breast cream, cataplasm, and patches.

Mangkhut (Garcinia Mangostana)

Xanthenes: No plant in nature has a higher concentration or variety of xanthenes than Mangkhut. In the Mangkhut, the chemical structure of xanthone forms the central core of a variety of naturally occurring organic compounds, such as mangostin, which are sometimes collectively referred to as xanthenes. Over 200 xanthenes have been identified in Mangkhut, and many of these are found in the pericarp of the mangosteen fruit (Garcinia mangostana), which can be found in the region of Southeast Asia.

Forty distinct xanthenes have been identified in Mangkhut pericarp powder. Researchers have demonstrated their positive effect on cardiovascular health; and their antiviral, antibiotic, and anti-inflammatory properties in addition to their being a powerful antioxidant.

Anti-inflammatory- Inhibits extreme histamine release and prostaglandin that cause serious inflammatory reactions.

Cardiovascular health- Helps inhibit oxidative damage which is thought to play a critical role in cardiovascular and other chronic disease.

Anti-oxidant- Strengthen the body's antioxidant defenses by inducing synthesis of the natural antioxidant enzyme. Helps support antioxidant enzymes produced by the body that protects against joint inflammation and scavenging free radicals that in turn help with the prevention of carcinogenesis (cancer development) as well as aid in the prevention and treatment of heart attacks, strokes, atherosclerosis, and liver disease.

Antibacterial- Contains strong anti-bacterial properties, and even helps prevent strong infections such as staph infections.

Antifungal- Helps prevent fungus from growing by inhibiting the growth of all fungi.

Ma Khom Pom (Emblica)

Ma khom pom, also known as Indian Gooseberry, Emblica, Amlaki and amla, is one of the most often used herbs in the Asian healing system. Emblica exhibits strong antioxidant activity, immunomodulatory, anti-inflammatory, antiulcer, hepatoprotective, and anticancer actions.

Ma Khom Pom enhances food absorption, equalizes stomach acid, fortifies the liver, nourishes the brain and mental functioning, helps supports the heart, strengthens the lungs, regulates elimination, enhances fertility, helps the urinary system, is good for the skin, promotes healthier hair, acts as a body coolant, flushes out toxins, increases vitality, strengthens the eyes, improves muscle tone and it acts as an antioxidant.

Diabetic therapy- Helps relieve oxidative stress and improves glucose metabolism in diabetes- Strong inhibition of the production of advanced glycosylated end products.

Cardiac health- Exhibits antioxidant activity in vitro and in vivo.

Lowers cholesterol- Reduces cholesterol levels on average within 14 days.

Hepatoprotective- Improves liver function by normalizing the activity of liver-specific enzymes.

Gastrointestinal Protection- Enhances secretion of gastric mucus and hexosamine-Protective effect of the stomach wall from lesions. -Antioxidant properties appear to be predominantly responsible for this cytoprotective action of the herb.

Certified Organic High Mountain Oolong Teas

Doi Tung Jin Xuan Oolong

Our Certified Organic Doi Tung Jin Xuan Oolong tea leaves are cultivated and hand picked on the famous Doi Tung Mountain in the Northern part of Thailand using only new growth 1 st grade top two leaves and bud. At the elevation of 1,200 to 1,400 meters above sea level, the mountainsides rich soils are covered with mist or clouds which are ideal weather conditions for growing High Mountain Oolong tea.

Doi Tung Jin Xuan Green Oolong

Our Certified Organic Doi Tung Jin Xuan Green Oolong is cultivated under the same ideal weather conditions and organic farming methods as our other High Mountain Oolong teas. The only major difference is the making process. Our Doi Tung Jin Xuan Green Oolong is a nearly green tea only slightly oxidized at about 5%. It offers all the advantages of a Green Tea with the aroma and flavor profile of an Oolong.

Certified Organic High Mountain Oolong Teas

Doi Tung Ruan Zhi Oolong

Our Certified Organic Doi Tung Ruan Zhi Oolong is crafted from the leaves of the Ruan Zhi (soft stem) tea variety growing on Doi Tung Mountain in the Northern part of Thailand. The tea leaves which are small and delicate compared to the Jin Xuan variety are cultivated and hand picked using only new growth 1st grade top two leaves and bud. At the elevation of 1,200 to 1,400 meters above sea level, the mountainsides rich soils are covered with mist or clouds which are ideal weather conditions for growing High Mountain Oolong tea. Our processing method produces a tea that is very close to Green as it is only oxidized at 20%, yet having a much more complex, rich flavor than Green Tea.

A very rare specialty tea, Our High Mountain Doi Tung Ruan Zhi Oolong is regarded as Thailand's best. This well balanced and flavorful tea is a new strain which has a deep and rich Oolong flavor. The tender leaves and buds are carefully processed to produce a deep golden cup with a superb zest and a subtle natural fruity aroma. It lasts for many infusions and is very memorable.
