

NETTIPATTAM

Nettipattam is a Kerala traditional item, which is used to decorate elephant in the time of Poorams and festivals. Nettipattam is a glittering ornament that adorns the forehead of an elephant. The gold color of the Nettipattam makes it an eye-catching item during the festivals of Kerala.

Earlier, Nettipattam was only used during festivals. Today, it is available as wall hangings in different sizes. People believe that the caparison brings prosperity and peace as it represents the Hindu gods in entirety.

The Traditional nettipattam is made in copper and pure gold is plating in it. This is the original Nettipattam and which are elephants are wearing at the time of elephant processions in Kerala, But now a days as per considering the rate of Gold this nettipattam is little more costlier because it need around 12 grms of Pure 999ct Gold for plating all around the nettipattam. But we are offering the Fiber nettipattams in market at a cheaper rate than the original nettipattams . This product will actually look like the original one but the material will be a plastic product this type is named as Trendy. We are offering two types of plastic nettipattams one is made by pure and quality plastic and which we are giving guarantee for its color for 1Yrs for interior use only. The second one is made with recycled plastic . The rate of this will be very low and the quality and design will be little bit different than the other. This nettipattam is named as Fancy nettipattam. The given below are the details of three types of Nettipattams.

A. Traditional Nettipattam

The Traditional nettipattam is the original nettipattam used in the forehead of elephants at the time of Elephant processions in Kerala. This is also used in the Old palaces and Homes for the symbol of prosperity .

This nettipattam is made in copper and pure gold is plated over it. The golden bubbles are stitched with thread in the velvet background. It is a long last product and we can plate and polish the golden are when it becomes fade and do any type of alter rations and repairs at any stage . This type of Nettipattam is available in different sizes but the sizes are accurate and we cannot make any change in these measurements.
